Our Story...

Dedicated to our friend & classmate, Collin Murphy

Dear Class of 2014,

Together, the yearbook staff worked hard all year to put together this unique book filled with lots of memories from all the years leading up to our graduation year. It's unbelievable how fast time flew. Soon enough, we will all be in the "real" world as we follow our dreams. Our theme this year was "A Story to be Told." The fact is, though, the past four years were only a chapter in our stories. Our journey is just beginning. Enjoy looking back at all the memories in this chapter and enjoy all your new chapters yet to be written. We'd like to give a special thank you to Alyssa Wojdag for designing our yearbook cover. Good luck Class of 2014, Congratulations. WE DID IT.

'14 Yearbook Staff

Collin Thomas Murphy

"Sky is the limit and you know that you keep on, just keep on pressin' on".

The Notorious B.I.G. (Biggie)

"A young man who taught more life lessons than any school could teach."

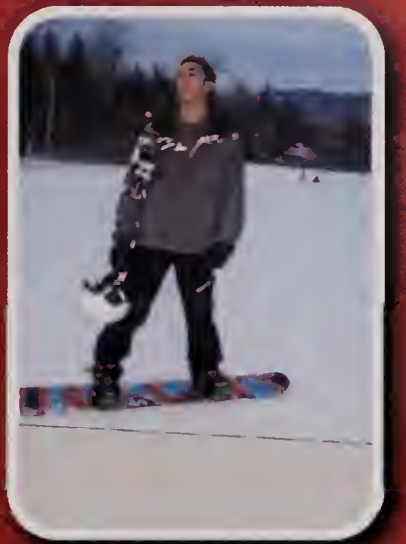

Lynn Mysiuk

Collin was tough, smart, determined and a funny friend. Most importantly, he was a selfless person always considering others before himself. He was a hard worker who continued doing well with his academics through his hardships. His show of strength and determination was remarkable. Collin loved baseball and football and enjoyed going to Red Sox and Patriots games. He cherished the times he spent in Maine, where he looked forward to spending the time water-skiing, fishing, snowboarding or just hanging out with his family and friends. While showing off his daredevil side, it was not unusual to watch him performing back flips off a tree branch in the backyard or a fence in the outfield. "Big C", as he was known to his baseball team, was an inspiration to his teammates and a good example as to what being a team member really meant. Collin's talents didn't end with athletics though. Some of us were privileged enough to witness his "musical talents" as well. For fun, he would think nothing of spitting out rap lyrics, letting it be known that other rap artists had better move over to make room for him. Collin always knew how to put a smile on our faces and any day spent with him was a brighter and better day. His kind, funny and selfless ways will never be forgotten.

Thank you Collin, for all you shared with us and taught us. We will forever carry your friendship and your smile in our hearts.

Class of 2014

We Love You Big C!

Words To Collin Murphy

We love you Big C

You'll always be remembered, I am so thankful to have been able to have been your friend. I love you.
-Meylan Gentry

You won't ever be forgotten Collin. I love you and I can't wait to meet again someday. You will always be a part of the Class of 2014.
-Michaela McTomney

Collin was hands down the sweetest, funniest, and most kind hearted person I ever knew. His locker was next to mine throughout middle school and he never failed to make me laugh and joke around with me. I'll always remember him singing Persepolis while dancing and putting a smile on everyone's face. Rest in peace sweetest person, you'll always be missed.
-Jade Northrop

Collin was by far the best, best friend anyone could ask for. He could make you smile in any way possible, from his sarcasm to uncontrolled rapping. Collin was the funniest kid ever, so one would ever be able to read his mind, he would spit out the most random thoughts. Miss you Big C. Wish we could play basketball with you one more time.
-Kevin Martine

Life is too short... it is almost like you lived what was coming by the way you lived your life. You are different than anyone else I've ever met. You spent your life caring for others and making sure everyone else had a smile on their face. You paid it forward Big C. You have left the greatest impact on my life and I couldn't be more grateful to be your best friend. You are the funniest kid I have ever met and I'll crack up till this day at your jokes. Being your teammate, best friend, and partner in crime has been a pleasure. This is in many a "good bye," it's an "I'll see you later." I love you Big guy, Rest easy Big C.
-Kyle Goulet

I'll never forget the times we shared. You have made the biggest impact on my life and all of the Class of 2014. Come join in the moment and laugh.
-Marilyn Christie

I hope you're doing good up there buddy. Everyone misses you and wishes you were here. I love you. -Ryan Portler

When we're there to say you are my best friend and I love you, every day just by that I wish I could see you again. You could make me laugh at any moment, you know how you brighten everyone's day. You didn't know how people thought about you as long as you were happy. I will treasure you forever for the football buddy. You were my crazy best friend and I will never forget you. I love you buddy.
-David Samson

Collin was the type of kid you never see. I'll miss the missing piece of the puzzle that we were missing. He brought laughter, trouble, personality, and I could never understand him. There was never a dull moment when I was with Collin. He made me keep my mouth shut so he could. Collin was a special person who had a very bright future ahead of him. I wish you could play our favorite sport together and that you would.
-David Powell

Collin could always make me feel better with his jokes. He taught me how to be a better person and how to be a better friend. I will miss you and your smile. I will miss your voice.
-Cassidy Taylor

You were the most remarkable person I have ever met. You were a true friend and you will be missed. You were always there for me and you will always be my friend. I love you.
-Katie Salas

Words to Collin Murphy

Rest Easy

Collin was always so full of energy and laughter. Every morning I would get out of bed and I would always run into him in the hall and he would do something funny or say something to me that would put me in the best mood. I'll never forget the special bond that we've had since 7th grade. Love you and miss you.

by
Damon Platon

You're my inspiration. Rest in peace, and thank you.

Audrey Fetter

I will forever remember you as the boy who could put a smile on anyone's face.

You showed us what a true fighter looks like and impacted my life greatly. Forever loved and always remembered.

-Litaly Carter

Collin, it is hard to write this especially trying to find the perfect words to say. But you've impacted each and everyone of us at Millington High in a positive way and definitely helped me overcome the toughest course. It's terrible that you had to go so early at such a young age but you're the reason why they are the best of the young. Rest easy.

-Richard Youngerstein IV

The courage and strength you've shown us and the world has truly touched our hearts and will stay with us forever. Thank you, you left us with great memories we will all share.

-Anonymous

I'll never forget when you and you and me went out west of the San Bernardino to a another lake. Park, swimming, picnic and some laughter. I wish, but I could never get mad at you about it because that was what the world of heaven you got to. Your silly laugh and infectious smile will never be forgotten. Rest in the eternal peace.

-Anonymous

Collin was the greatest best friend that I could have asked for. No matter what he was doing he could make me smile for hours. I would give anything to go back to when you were still here. I really miss all the crazy adventures we used to go on, and I know I will never be the same without you. I love you & miss you Big C.

-Mike Alexander

Collin was one of the funniest, most energetic people I've ever met. Bus rides to ski club on Sundays were a fun ride with Collin there. We will never forget you, rest easy.

-Luke Lammertsen

The last time I saw you we were at your senior women's basketball game and I said, "hi" to you and went to give you a hand shake and you said, "what is that?" and you opened your arms and gave me a hug. I couldn't have ask for a better memory of you, you were so kind and outgoing and you'll forever have a special place in my heart.

-Kellie Littlefield

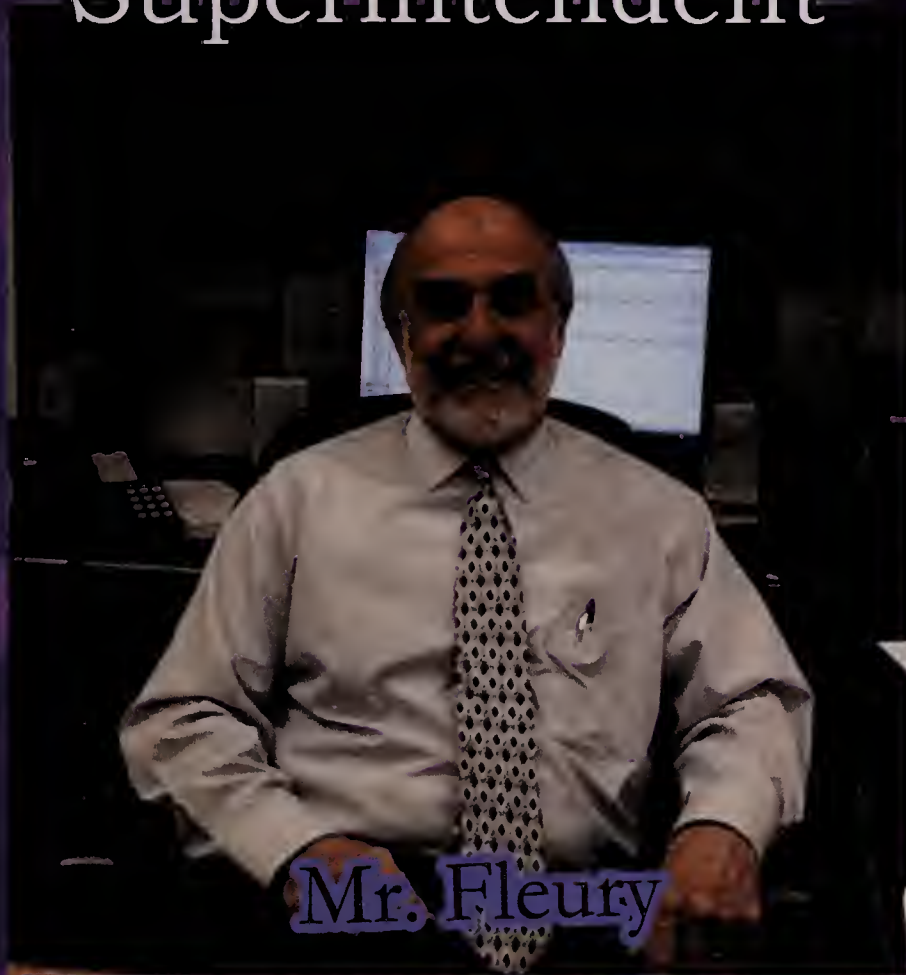

You always knew how to make everyone laugh. Wish you were here for senior year. Miss you Collin!

-Katie Postler

The 2013 boys soccer team earned a record that was not indicative of the team's hard work and dedication. Finishing the season with a record of 2-16, the boys fell short in very close games when facing the league's leading opponents. Led by lone senior captain David Towne, and junior captains John Howard and Paul Dwelly, the team identified the season goal as playing "strategic soccer". The team earned the sportsmanship award among the TVL team and junior Paul Dwelly was nominated to the TVL second All Star Team. Other end-of-season recognition included Chad Remy as Most Improved, David Towne as the Coach's Award recipient, and John Howard as the team's Most Valuable Player. Having graduated only one player, the 2014 season looks promising as the consistency of the team will be maintained. Good luck boys.

Girls Varsity Basketball

Tournament!

The 2013-2014 season was a memorable one for the Varsity Girl's Basketball team. They finished third in the Central Division, ending the regular season with a record of 17-3, qualifying for State Tournament for the second time in 14 years. Coach Nagle was named TVL Coach of the Year, and Meghan Casey and Sabrina Ulsh were named to the first and second All Star teams. The team was led by the four senior captains; Karina Saletnik, Meghan Smith-Casey, Brooke Harribine, and Michaela McTomney. The Girls had their first home tournament game since 1997, and defeated Millbury in the Quarter-Final with a score of 58-31. The team went on to defeat Northbridge in the Division III semi-final with a score of 58-42, and continued on to defeat Tyngsboro, 46-35, in the Division III final. For the first time in the school's history the Varsity Girl's Basketball team became 2014 Division III Central Champions. The Girls went on to play Hoosac in the State Semi-final, coming up shy of 2 points. With a heartbreaking loss the season ended with an overall record of 20-4. This year has changed the girl's basketball program forever; we can only imagine what the outcome of next year will be.

The Bellingham/Medway Co-Op Wrestling Program kicked off its first inaugural season this year. Twenty-one student athletes from Bellingham and Medway combined forces and brought home a 6-9 dual meet record. The team was lead by captains: Kevin Clinton, Andrew Gabrielle, and Jake Martin. The team placed 5 athletes into the state tournament and the post season was highlighted by Dan Fraser placing in States and earning a spot at All States. Coach Forbes is very optimistic about the future and hopes to double the number of wrestlers in the next season.

Class History

While we've all changed a lot over the course of our high school careers, one thing that hasn't changed is our continued class pride and our incredible spirit. We've created memories that we will never forget and we've had an undeniably lasting impact on BHS. We've left behind a legacy to be proud of, and it all began four years ago when we first entered the place where we would grow from scared freshmen into confident young adults with a bright future ahead of us.

When we first walked through those main doors in the fall of 2010, most of us were as terrified as we were excited. During those early weeks, when we often got lost in the halls or accidentally went to the wrong lunch, we felt out of place and intimidated by what the next four years would hold, but we started to settle in and as our first Spirit Week came around, we were ready to show the upperclassmen what we were made of. With our Disney-themed posters made by our class officers, Vice President Kathy Scanlan, Secretary Emily Cotter, Treasurer Tommy Roche, and myself as President, we managed to win the poster contest despite the usual favoritism shown towards the seniors. This event showed the rest of the school that we were a class to be respected and we faced the rest of our freshman year with enthusiasm and excitement. Our first homecoming soon arrived and the stress the girls experienced as they hurried to get their hair and nails done soon faded away as we danced and celebrated all night. By the end of the year, we had all adjusted to high school and we were ready to have a blast on our Six Flags trip. Finally, we ended our first year by experiencing those stressful final exams for the first time, but we were confident and ready to return next year as sophomores.

Starting sophomore year was a challenge because we were no longer new to high school, but we were still considered underclassmen and were often grouped in with the annoying freshmen. Despite that reputation, we had another amazing year and spirit week and homecoming were a huge success once again. We also experienced the first ever winter-semi and as spring rolled around, our class officers, President Cody Drinan, Vice President Kathy Scanlan, Treasurer Meyya Muthu, and Secretary Katelyn Coelho, began to plan our Ring Dance. Although it was small, the night was still fun and we finally received those rings we had been waiting for. Then after finals and the last MCAS tests most of us would ever take, we finished off our sophomore year and got ready to finally be the upperclassmen.

Junior year brought many changes. Most of us were able to finally escape the bus as we became licensed drivers, and we also got the privilege of coming in late and leaving early. Led by President Emily Killion, Vice President Katelyn Coelho, Secretary Kayla Hansen, and Treasurer Brooke Harribane, we went into Spirit Week and homecoming with more enthusiasm than ever, but the real excitement came in the spring. Many of us began to think about college choices and our future careers with SAT tests looming over our heads, but these worries were overshadowed by the joy we all experienced in planning our first prom. The girls had to worry about finding the perfect dress, getting their hair and jewelry and shoes, as well as getting their hair and nails done, while the boys were less concerned about the whole event. Prom was held at Lombardo's in Randolph and hosted by the class of 2013. The theme was "A Night to Remember" and it truly was. Aishwarya Bhadouria was our Prom Queen in her sparkling gold dress and Ryan Pothier was named Prom King as Rypo was chanted throughout the room. But something else happened that year that is an extremely significant part of our class history.

During March of our junior year, we faced something that as sixteen and seventeen year olds, we were not well equipped to deal with; the death of a beloved classmate and friend. Collin Murphy was not only the class clown who made everyone laugh with his sometimes inappropriate humor, but he was also the type of person who could bring a group together and during our junior year, that's exactly what he did. We came together as a class, as a school, and as a community to ensure that Collin knew exactly how loved he was and what he meant and still means to this town. Through events like the girl's basketball game against cancer and the relay for life team that ran in his name, this school came together to show Collin how important he truly was to us all. Collin showed us the real meaning of strength and although he can't be here with us today, he will always live on in our hearts and tomorrow we know he will be standing right next to us as we receive our diplomas and end this chapter in our lives. He will forever be a part of the class of 2014 and the effect he had on us all will never be forgotten.

Finally, senior year was here and we couldn't believe how quickly high school had gone by. We all promised to make senior year the best time of our lives and we made so many amazing memories, both in and out of school. For the first time we were the oldest class, the ones to be respected and admired. Spirit Week was incredible as always and we finished off the week with the pep rally hosted by Austin Nunn, Katelyn Coelho, Katie Mardo, and Ryan Postler. Spirit Week and Homecoming were a blast with Ryan Postler being crowned Homecoming King and the lovely Katie Postler being named the Homecoming Queen, but the excitement from the beginning of the year quickly turned to stress and dread as college deadlines rapidly approached. The winter and early spring passed in a blur of common app and scholarship applications, but we were able to distract ourselves by cheering on our girls and boys basketball teams. Supporting the girls as they became sectional champs was an amazing experience and who could forget those hilarious and creative cheers led by Hunter Reget and Austin Nunn. Once the season was over and all those applications were done, we were ready to focus on the end of year events.

The Disney trip was a magical experience and despite the weather, I can confidently say that all of us had an amazing time, visiting every park, riding every ride, watching the fireworks at Epcot and Magic Kingdom and having our crazy Grad Night at Universal. At the end of our Disney trip we were all extremely sad to leave, but there was still so much to look forward to. Prom was just around the corner, but before we could dance the night away one last time, there were TVL titles to take. The baseball, softball, and boys track teams all won their TVL titles and the boys lacrosse team made it to the state tournament.

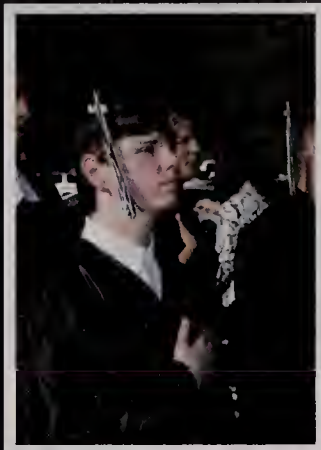

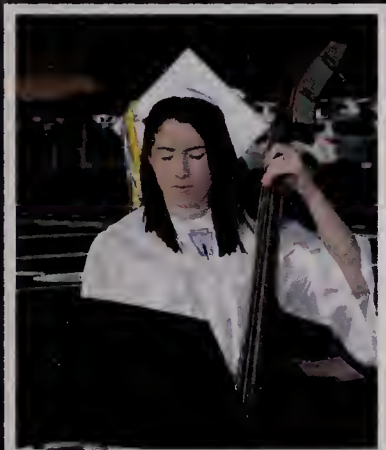

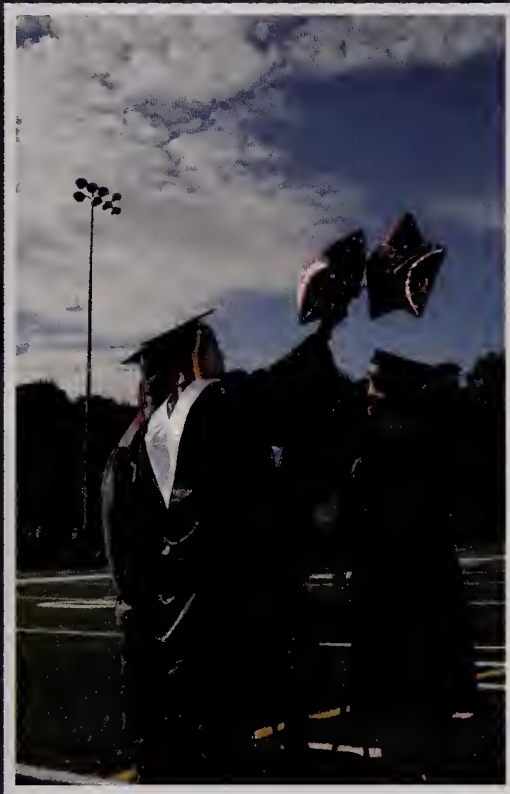

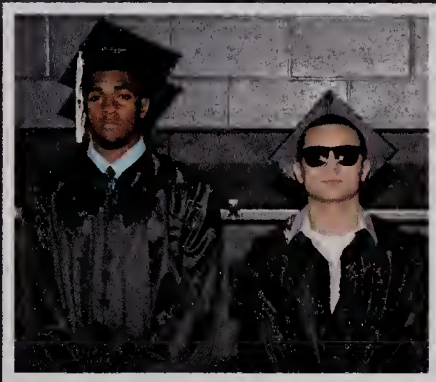

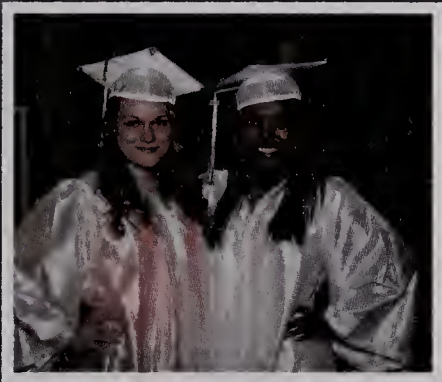

These accomplishments inspired a new burst of Blackhawk pride, and later that day we had our senior prank night. Those "Frozen" and "Wizard of Oz" themed rooms were by far the most impressive creations, and the next day we were all heading to the Doubletree Inn in Milford for our "Under the Sea" themed prom. We all danced until our feet hurt, with several impromptu "Love is an Open Door" performances drawing attention and soon Katie Fitzgerald was named our Prom Queen with Kevin Martinis taking his crown as the Prom King. Finishing the night off with "Turn Down for What" was the perfect way to end our senior prom. Soon after, we headed to High Meadows in Connecticut and the trip was an extremely fun day with rock climbing races, laser tag battles, and some very convincing hypnotism acts, especially from Adam Braza.

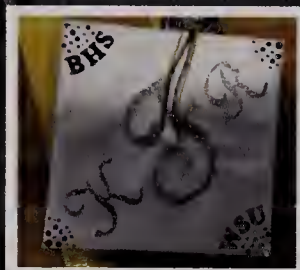

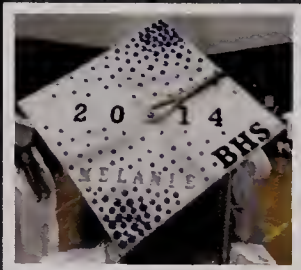

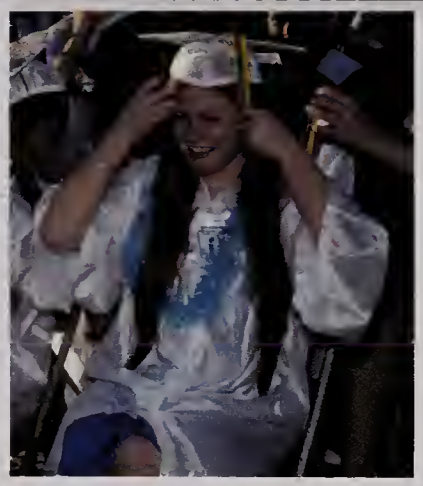

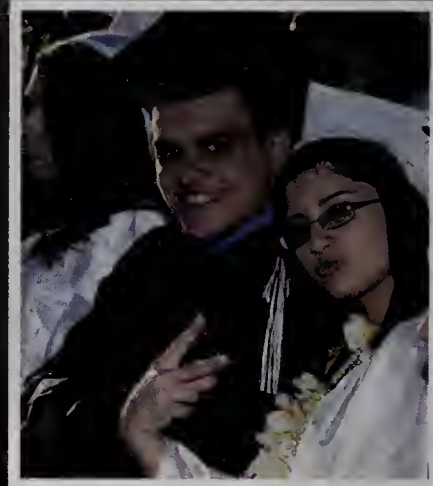

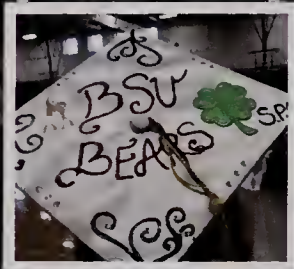

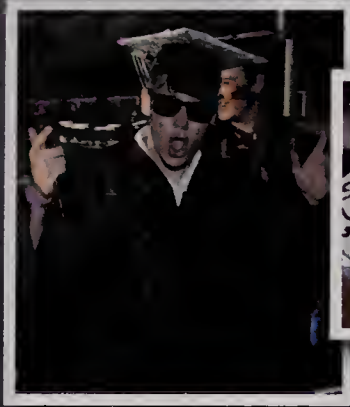

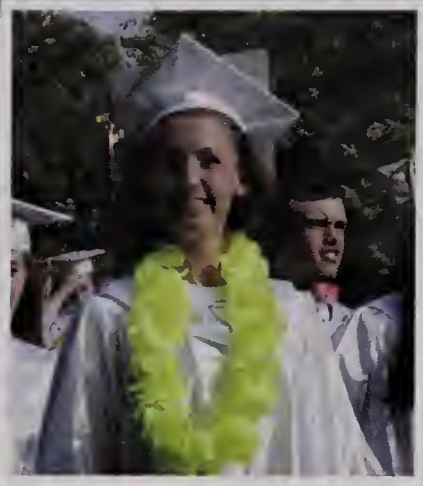

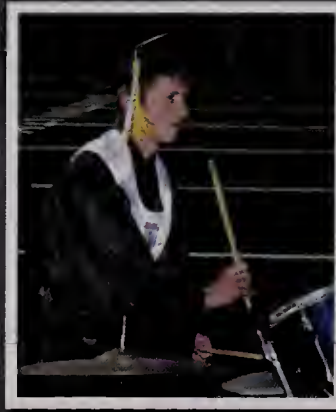

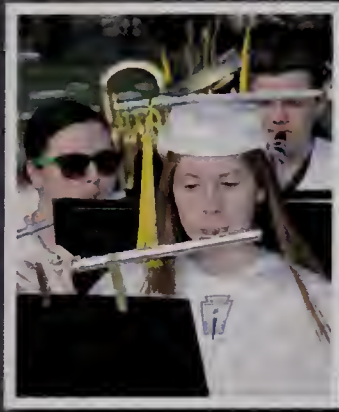

In all, these last four years have gone by far too quickly, but the memories we've made and the lessons we've learned will stay with us forever. I am incredibly proud to be a part of the Class of 2014 and I want to thank you all for giving me the best four years of my life. Congratulations to the best class to ever grace the halls of Bellingham High School and good luck to you all in everything you choose to do after we graduate.

Valedictorian Speech

I would just like to say it's such an honor and privilege to talk at my class's graduation as Valedictorian. As teenagers, we don't get many opportunities to speak our minds, and I'm grateful I can do this in front of my classmates, and their family and friends.

When we were about to enter high school as ninth graders, I was nervous. I mean, most of you probably were, even if you won't admit it. I wasn't nervous about switching schools or having an entire new environment because that's not a big deal. We encounter new things and people every day. But what I was actually nervous about was the pressure of going to high school. I don't know about you guys, but when I was younger, all three High School Musical movies got my hopes up pretty high. It fits the cliché of being the best years of your life.

But what actually qualifies as being the "best years of your life?" Our opinions of what's right for us, what makes something fun, changes almost every day. What we surround ourselves around influences our interests, which therefore changes what we think is best for us.

Every year, Bellingham High School has transformed itself, adapting to the modern world of education, to make it the best years of our lives. Our school is pretty small and doesn't have as many resources as some bigger schools have just because of a larger student population, or as the families would say, more tax-payers.

But we still pull through, every year stronger than ever. And this year might have been the strongest we've ever been, or ever will be. Our school spirit went through the roof when the girls' basketball team went all the way to the state semi-finals. Almost all of the junior and senior class went to their games after they made the playoffs, decked out in black and white and making the other teams feel as awkward and uncomfortable as possible. Which was fantastic, by the way, and made me feel pretty proud to be on the Bellingham side. And to top it off, the boy's track team, the baseball team, and softball team were all the TVL champs. The boy's lacrosse team even reached their state tournament. The school added a couple of AP classes to the curriculum and we received iPads to use in class and in the library. All of these additions were made during our senior year, which makes our class seem pretty special. We are the class that's worthy of these privileges. I know that Mrs. Remy said that our class had the largest amount of NHS students ever, showing how motivated our class is to stand out. We even had students in our grade convince the school committee to keep AP chemistry, proving our determinism and drive. Our grade changed Bellingham High for the better because we still believe in this school.

This year, our class knocked it out of the park with our accomplishments and Bellingham High School can be held on a high pedestal once again for us proud Bellingham residents, or as we're known on the internet, Bellinghamsters. Yeah, you can look it up. I don't know.

But next year, the expectations of our school, and just the educational experience, can change drastically. All of us are branching from 60 Blackstone Street, to different avenues of life, learning and experiencing new skills. As a class of almost Bellingham graduates, we need to help Bellingham reach those higher levels or growth with our newly found expertise from the global community we're entering after graduation.

We need to develop Bellingham High School, and keep improving it, so new students can love it and be proud of it just as much as we did and still do.

Our school's future is in our hands, the alumni, because we know the potential of this school. And it's our job to show new students that same potential we know exists. We spent four years at Bellingham and all of us turned out alright! Well at least most of us anyway. No matter where we all go for college, work, etc., we end up coming back here because this is our home. And it's our job to protect it. If we come back, praise the school, help raise funds, or do whatever this school needs, we can cause a positive domino effect. Raising funds for the school will lead to more resources, such as advanced technology or more teachers with new ideas. Then these new ideas will grow, attracting attention. This would then cause more families to move here because they heard of the great school system, which will then bring in more taxes, which will again provide more money for the school. We just need to start the process. And who else to start than our very own class of 2014. Because remember, we claimed we're the 1's you'll never 4get because we're number 1 4ever.

Congratulations to all of us who made it this far and I wish all of you the best in the future! Go Class of 2014! Thank you.

Class of 2014

Salutatorian Speech

Welcome friends, family, and faculty and thank you for being here to celebrate with us today. It's hard to believe that we are finally graduating. Four years ago, this day seemed like it would never come, but here we are and I never expected this moment to be so bittersweet. When we first sat in the auditorium as freshmen and listened to Mr. Forbes as he told us the next four years would fly by, most of us didn't take those words seriously and none of us truly understood how much high school would change us and our plans for the future. Walking through those front doors that first day of school in 2010 was a terrifying experience.

We had no idea what to expect and we were all intimidated by what was ahead of us. I think most of us can agree that high school has been a roller coaster, with many ups and downs along the way, but every mistake we made, every failure we experienced has contributed to who we are today just as much as our accomplishments have.

Everything we've done in the last four years, everything we've worked for and earned has all led up to this moment. And while we should all be very proud of what we've accomplished during this time, we also need to take this moment to reflect on what we've learned about ourselves and about our aspirations for the future. High school allowed us to gain the maturity and responsibility that we will need in our adult lives, and I don't think a single one of us could say that we are the exact same people we were as fourteen year olds. Most of us began our high school career with a basic game plan; get good grades, get into a good college, and get a good job. Those are the goals we set for ourselves four years ago, before we knew who we were or who we wanted to be. And even though a lot of us still don't know the answers to those questions, we have had an incredible journey together and we are more than ready for the next chapter in our lives. We have the skills we need in order to become successful and achieve the things we want and now we're at a point where it's time to set some new goals. We need to figure out what we see ourselves doing for the rest of our lives, but more importantly, we need to decide what steps we must take in order to achieve our dreams.

Having that personal ambition and drive will help us achieve our goals, but we can do so much more when we have people encouraging us and supporting us along the way. Many of the things I've accomplished were possible because of the people I had behind me and I want to take a moment to thank every person who has helped me along the way. My parents, my family, and my extremely supportive friends are the reason I'm standing in front of you all today, and words cannot express the immense gratitude I feel for these people. I also want to acknowledge the people who gave me a great education, our principal Mr. Marano, our assistant principal Mr. Forbes, and some amazing teachers, including Mr. Henderson, Ms. Walsh, and Mrs. Sjogren. I owe quite a lot to these teachers in particular. Hendy was always able to brighten my day with his neverending supply of cookies and Ms. Walsh and Mrs. Sjogren helped me grow as a student and as a person. They often praised me, but were never afraid to tell me when I could do better and those are the type of people who have the greatest impact on you. I know all of us have our own special relationships with different faculty members and the way these teachers have looked out for us and helped us in every way possible is truly incredible. With people behind you to point out your mistakes and help you find your way, nothing will seem impossible. Our class in particular has found a way to inspire others and reach out when people need help or support.

I've watched our class come together countless times, whether it was to honor a beloved classmate who was taken from us far too soon, or simply to cheer on our girl's basketball team in their tournament games. And out of all the formulas and equations

I've learned during these past four years, I think the most important lesson I'll take away from our time together is what it means to be a part of a group, to be a part of something bigger than yourself. People will always tell you to stand out and be your own person, and while that's great advice, something that I've come to appreciate recently, especially during my senior year, is the incredible feeling you get when you sit among your classmates and know that you're just one person in a crowd of people who have grown up in the same place you did, in the same way you did. And when I think of the class of 2014,

I don't think of individual people or just the people that I was close with personally. I think of us as a group who grew up together, a group that has accomplished so much already, but is ready to accomplish so much more.

This sense of community that I've experienced, especially this year, is one of the reasons I'm so proud to be a part of this class.

And even though we've all had our ups and downs, fights with our friends or a bad grade on an important test, I couldn't be happier with the way high school turned out. The experiences we've had, the memories we've made, and the lessons we've learned will stay with us forever, even as we start this new chapter in our lives. The challenges we face are far from over, but we've grown up so much in the past four years and even though we still have a lot to learn, the foundation we've received at

BHS has set us up to succeed, no matter what we plan to do when we graduate.

In conclusion, I just want to say that these have been the best four years of my life. Every single one of you sitting in front of me has impacted my life in some way, and I have complete and utter faith that you all have the power to make the world a better place. I couldn't be prouder to consider myself a part of this class and congratulations on finally making it, class of 2014. Thank you!

Class President Speech

Hello graduates, faculty, family and friends. Thank you all for coming out tonight to help us end this chapter, and accompany us as we flip the page to the next chapter in our lives. I would like to begin by saying how proud and honored I am that I get to represent such an amazing class; the class of 2014. If it were not for the combined efforts of every single one of you, these past four years would not have been as exciting, fun and successful as they were from every event like spirit week, homecoming, prom, our class run and randomly chanting "Seniors!" throughout the halls and at every dance.

Seniors, you can finally exhale a sigh of relief because we made it, we're done. The hard work has at last come to an end. For some, it was easy while others struggled with getting their last few grades up high enough to cross this stage tonight, but to everyone here I would like to give a huge congratulations because no one deserves this moment more than each of you do. I know how hard each and every one of you have worked to get to this place, and I'm so proud to be able to lead you here tonight through this ceremony. We have finally reached the light at the end of the tunnel; we pushed through senioritis, which for me began sophomore year, and managed to get all our work complete although the struggle was real. I know that these past four years have sometimes been stressful as we have all prepared to leave the shelter of our hometown, with its familiar faces and welcoming smiles. However, through this stress we have managed to make some wonderful memories.

I have learned a lot these past four years at Bellingham. I remember my first day in this school I was so scared, and right away I got lost although everyone kept trying to assure me that it was only a square and it wasn't so hard to get around. I even came home crying that I didn't want to go back because I didn't want to walk into the wrong classroom with scary upperclassmen again. Although I still haven't quite figured out my way around the school, and I still have to think for a few seconds about which staircases bring me where, I did learn that the upperclassmen aren't so big once you become one. Here I am standing as a senior about to graduate, and somehow I still feel so small and young compared to what still lies ahead of us. There is still so much more to come, and we haven't nearly experienced anything yet.

Although our own personal efforts played a huge role in getting us where we are today, we cannot dismiss the fact that there were others involved in this success. I would like to extend a thank you to all the teachers, our families and friends who helped guide us on the road to where we are now. The teachers we've had from kindergarten through twelfth grade dedicated more than what was asked of them to help us sit in these chairs today. Starting with our elementary teachers who made learning a fun adventure; from Mrs. Clinton who danced every student around the classroom on their birthday, and hatched chicks and ducks each spring, to Ms. Fafard's annual night hikes, each brought learning to life. Even outside of the classroom, they are still involved in our daily lives just by simply stopping us in the hall and asking us how we're doing or telling us to move "Swiftly," as Mr. DeDentro always does, or a friendly "Good morning" and "Have a good weekend" from Mr. Rigney, and my personal favorite are the wonderful compliments Mrs. Roberts always shouts out as you pass her by in the hall. Although these are only a few examples of the wonderful teachers we have in this school, there are plenty of other teachers who welcome us with open doors to talk about not only school work but our own personal issues. The fact that these teachers took time out of their lives to sit in front of us and watch us accept our diplomas says a lot about the passion they have for their students, which reminds me to give a special shout out to Mrs. Colella who came out tonight after all the relentless pleas from our AP Lit class. Thank you all for being here for us not only tonight, but in all our previous years as students at BHS.

Emily Killion
Class of 2014

Our educational journey has been like that of a hiker, filled with peaks and valleys. It is a custom of some hikers to pause along their trek and simply touch the trail and summit markers as a sign to others of their presence on a common journey. We have been on a common journey, with our teachers, family, and friends being our fellow hikers, and they have touched us; our hearts, minds, and souls with their presence. Some have been with us for our entire journey, some just crossed our paths, and some made a valiant attempt to see the journey to an end, but sadly slipped away. But however long their presence, they have helped mold the people we have become and we in turn will go out and leave our mark on the world. Up until now, we have all traveled the same path. We have fought and we have made up, we have cried and we have laughed, we have lived and we have learned. Now our paths must part but because we have shared so much together we will always carry a part of each other with us. Congratulations, and thank you for sharing this incredible journey with me. However, before I conclude this speech I have one last question to ask you seniors... Turn down for what?

THE U.S. GOVERNMENT SHUTS DOWN

From October 1st through October 16th, the United States government was shut down as a result of a House and Senate disagreement. The two chambers in the Congress could not work out their differences on a fiscal funds bill for 2014. This shutdown affected 800,000 employees and has happened 17 times since 1976.

JULY 12TH DECLARED MALALA DAY

16-year-old Pakistani teenager Malala Yousafzai spoke at the United Nations (UN) Youth Assembly on July 12, 2013 in New York City. Malala, a Nobel Peace Prize nominee, was shot by the Taliban in response to her fight for the rights of all children to get an education. The United Nations declared July 12 'Malala Day.'

EXTREME DREAM ACCOMPLISHED

Diana Nyad had the long-time dream of swimming from Cuba to Florida. On her fifth attempt and at 64, she became the first person confirmed to swim from Havana to Key West without the aid of a shark cage. Nyad was once ranked thirteenth among U.S. women squash players.

SUPERHERO WISH COMES TRUE

Five-year-old Miles has struggled over half his life battling cancer. After his parents wrote to the Make-A-Wish Foundation, his dream of becoming a superhero came true. The Make-A-Wish foundation turned the city of San Francisco into Gotham City where the tiny superhero saved a damsel in distress, fought crime and took a ride in the well-known Batmobile.

THE YEAR in SPORTS

- Only one year after a dreadful 93-loss season, the Boston Red Sox won their third championship beating St. Louis in the World Series.
- One year after falling short in a final loss to Roger Federer, Andy Murray beat No. 1 Novak Djokovic in straight sets to capture his second major title and become the first British man to win Wimbledon since Fred Perry in 1936.
- Mariano Rivera's unparalleled career ended Sept. 26 at Yankee Stadium after 19 seasons, a record 652 saves and one final emotional pitching change.
- Trailing Boston 2-1 late in Game 6, Chicago was 76 seconds away from needing to return home for a winner-take-all seventh game. Then Bryan Bickell and Dave Bolland scored two goals in a 17-second span, winning the Blackhawks their second Stanley Cup in four seasons.
- Serena Williams clashed with 20-year-old American sensation Sloane Stephens at the U.S. Open and took the win with a 6-4, 6-1 fourth-round victory.
- The Nebraska spring football game was the setting for one of the year's most magical and touching sports moments. Jack Hoffman, a 7-year-old diehard Huskers fan and cancer patient was the star of the annual Red-White scrimmage, scoring on a 69-yard touchdown run.
- Jimmie Johnson won his sixth NASCAR championship, one short of Richard Petty and Dale Earnhardt who share the all-time record.
- Baltimore Ravens win Super Bowl XLVII against the 49ers in a wild game that featured a stoppage of play when the lights in the Superdome failed and the stadium was largely blacked out.
